- C-4 1. Three new airfields built by rear service troops and civilians were completed in August in Sorim-myon (124-39, 39-53) (XE-4116), Ch'am-myon (124-42, 39-53) (SC-4516), and Simch'on-myon (124-46, 39-49) (XE-5108). There are concrete runways on each field measuring about 60 by 3000 meters. In mid-August approximately 20 planes were observed on each strip; by mid-September the number increased to 55 fighters and bombers. The planes were hidden in underground caves during the day. The pilots are Soviet and Chinese.
- C-6 2. About 2000 North Korean pilots completed training at a Soviet school in the USSR and were sent to Outer Mongolia for 3 months advanced training prior to 1 October. Many of these pilots received training in jet planes.
